

Example of a declaration of conformity for the electromagnetic compatibility of electrical apparatus

(according to EN 17050-1:2004)

The declaration of conformity is a document drawn up by the manufacturer or his authorised representative established within Switzerland and which indicates that the apparatus complies with the essential requirements in the field of the electromagnetic compatibility. The declaration of conformity shall be drawn up in one of the Swiss official languages or in English. This example is also available in various languages on our website www.ofcom.ch: English > Topics > Equipments & installations > Market access of electrical apparatus > Declaration of conformity.

DECLARATION OF CONFORMITY
Name and address of the manufacturer or his authorised representative established within Switzerland	Manufacturer SA Work road 99 CH - 9999 Office
Object of the declaration: (type, batch, serial number or any other information permitting its unequivocal identification)	Hairdryer X200
The above mentioned installation complies with the essential requirements specified in the directive 2004/108/EC on the approximation of the laws of the Member States relating to electromagnetic compatibility.
The conformity of the above mentioned apparatus to the essential requirements has been assessed by applying following technical standards:
Document-No:	Title:	Edition/Date of issue:
	EN 55 014-1 :2006
	EN 55 014-2 :1997
Additional information: The technical documentation R9999-99 has been assessed by the conformity assessment body 9999.

(Date of issue of the declaration)
Signature Mr. QS, Quality manager
(Identity and signature of the responsible person authorised to sign)

The apparatus should be unequivocally described so that the declaration of conformity may be related to it.

The name and address of the manufacturer, and, where applicable, of his authorised representative established within Switzerland has to be unequivocally specified. For large organizations, it may be necessary to specify operational groups or departments.

The technical standards applied for the conformity assessment against the essential requirements must be listed with their identification number, titles and date of issue or version number.

For apparatus intended for the Swiss market exclusively, the following text may also be applied:
The above mentioned apparatus complies with the essential requirements specified in the Ordinance on electromagnetic compatibility (OEMC; RS 734.5).

If the declaration of conformity is drawn up for several legislations (or directives), this point must be completed accordingly.

Additional information as e.g. indication of the conformity assessment body which has been involved in the conformity assessment, a reference to the technical documentation, ...

Date and place of issue of the declaration of conformity have to be indicated.

Full name and function of the signing person should be given. The signature alone is not sufficient.
